To whoever finds or keeps this envelope, this sealed envelope holds one part of a split backup. A single part is worthless on its own. It cannot be used and it cannot be turned into money. Only several parts, held in different places, add up to anything usable.

Please do not open the envelope.

The seal is there to show that the contents are untouched. Simply keep it where you found it, dry and protected from fire.

If you have questions, can no longer keep the envelope, or notice any change to the seal, please get in touch with:
